

Personal Commitment Letter

CAR Vocational Training Program is a unique program, but it is not for everyone. It was designed to give its students a jumpstart on moving into a productive place in society, by teaching them those things they need to know to make a career of within the auto servicing industry. It is not a typical trade school. It is a program that requires you to focus, to pay attention, to live up to professional standards, and to exhibit maturity and social skills befitting any member of the community.

It is a privilege, not a right. If you are selected to be among the people who will attend alongside fellow students, your personal benefits will be many. You will learn the coursework that can lead to ASE certification. And, you will also learn how to work alongside your peers on some very impressive projects. You will learn what it is like to succeed, and to have others look up to you for your skills and confidence and to make an impression on others who might want to follow in your footsteps to achieve what you will achieve.

We choose participants by interviewing them, just like any business does when it hires you. We do our homework to find the best candidates for a successful use of this resource. People are donating their time and money to the success of the program, and we will do our part to make sure it becomes a program that can deliver on its promise.

As a participant in the program you are asked to give us your commitment in return, which includes a minimum of 12 hours attendance each week that we schedule you. We expect promptness, courtesy to all you meet here, your attention, your respect in both words and actions. We expect a high degree of good ethical behavior. There will be no inappropriate behavior; no illegal substances or activities; and no destructive action or harming of people or property.

This is a working shop. Safety requirements are in place for a reason. Be where we require you to be, doing the things you are supposed to do. This means you will wear the clothing we require and obey written and verbal rules. You will respect the staff, the student crew and the customers, counselors and anyone else who visits the facility. If you fail to live up to the requirements of the program, we reserve the right at any time and without notice to remove you from the program, at which time you will lose your privileges to participate in the future.

I agree to the above, and will remain committed to the program while involved in it.
